About ISBT

ISBT is an international society with members around 100 countries. Everyone involved in any aspect of transfusion medicine and related disciplines can become a member whether working in blood services, hospitals, research institutes, universities or industry. All professional groups within the field of transfusion medicine are represented. The aims of ISBT are:

- To connect with blood transfusion professionals
- To provide opportunities for exchanging information and knowledge related to blood transfusion
- To promote and maintain a high level of ethical, medical and scientific standards in blood transfusion medicine
- To support safe and sufficient transfusion therapy globally

The main activities of ISBT include annual congresses, education through the ISBT Academy which organises or supports workshops and educational events around the globe, E-learning opportunities via ISBT Education and 15 Scientific Working Parties promoting science, research and best practice across the transfusion chain.
